

Supporting Developing Countries

Kenyon has signed up to a socially responsible recycling scheme for surplus IT equipment.

As the company upgrades its technology, serviceable equipment that has become surplus to requirements is donated to Computer Aid International.

Computer Aid International's aim is to increase the number of refurbished computers being re-used overseas. It works with organisations in recipient countries able to derive maximum value from these refurbished machines.

The charity provides training and work experience in computer repair to people from socially excluded communities in its UK workshops.

For more information about how to support this work, visit the website at: <http://www.computeraid.org/>